

Choose Jane as Keynote Speaker at Your Next Event

Have you ever noticed how much pressure women put on themselves? Christian women are especially hard on themselves. Having received the grace of Christ, they believe they should have it all together. Many believe they must do the following:

- Anticipate and avoid all mistakes
- Constantly strive for a perfect house, an ideal marriage, perfect children, or a successful career
- Work hard to make up for failures rather than enjoying the blessings in life
- Volunteer, bake casseroles, and serve others until they can barely stand up

Speaker, coach and author Jane Abbate believes it's time for Christian women to acknowledge (and laugh about) the messes and failures in their lives. She'll help your audience members face their mistakes and find God right in the midst of them.

Jane shares how she made a mess of her life and how God met her right where she was. Some of the story is funny, some is heartbreaking, and the outcome leaves women feeling inspired, uplifted, and full of God's grace.

Jane will stand the close-up test in providing living proof of a loving God to anyone hurting from past mistakes. Her style of presentation is warm and inspiring. Women can sense her love for God and for them. Melodie Leake, Women's Ministry Pastor, Allison Park Church, Pittsburgh PA

Jane Abbate is a terrific speaker with passion in her heart for the power of God's word to change lives. She's real, engaging, interesting, clear and downright funny. She makes the audience think, feel and act. I guarantee women will be challenged and encouraged by Jane's message. Mary Kay Moore, Associate Pastor, High Mill Church, Canton, OH - Author: Stepping Out, Nun No More

Jane's message of compassion, healing, and hope makes her an ideal speaker for retreats, luncheons, Bible studies, and special events.

After decades of hiding her mistakes and striving to project an "I have it all together" image, Jane experienced God's healing and forgiveness, and began to move into a new, fulfilled life. As Jane's past lost more and more of its destructive power, she realized she was living a process of healing, one she could share with others.

Jane is author of Where Do Broken Hearts Go? and co-author of Learning to Follow Jesus, a Guide for Women and the Spiritual Coaching Toolkit with Pastor Daniel McNaughton. She is a certified professional coach as well as a facilitator for an international Christian healing ministry. Jane lives in Pittsburgh, PA with her husband, Bill, and three Burmese cats.
